

Ryan Clark

March 2012 Calendar

Ryan Clark works for an alternative investments firm, where he serves as the liaison between software development and client services. In his position, Ryan automates processes, and leads training and support for newly implemented technologies.

Ryan graduated from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign from both the College of Business and College of Engineering. He received a B.S. in accountancy, and a minor in Technology and Management. In college, Ryan served as president of the Multicultural Leadership Group (MLG). He was awarded the MLG Scholarship for academic, professional and community involvement, which placed him in the top 2 percent of MLG members. Ryan also was the proud recipient of the 2009 National Black Engineer Award for Student Leadership Award. In addition, Ryan was awarded the 2009 ICIC (Initiative for a Competitive Inner City) Growing Up CEO Award, which honors America's top inner-city youth entrepreneurs.

